Dear Parent/s Carers,

During next half term, Year 2 will be focussing on 'My Changing Body' in their PSHE lessons. The sessions will focus on looking at positive relationships, respecting privacy and the difference between female and male bodies.

The main objectives that will be covered during next half term are;

- Recognise feelings associated with losing (and being reunited) with a person they are close to.
- Identifying the parts of the human body which are private
- Understand that humans mostly have the same body parts but they can look different from person to person.
- Identifying how inappropriate touch can make someone feel.

During the lessons in which children will learn about the biological differences between genders; children will name genitalia using anatomically correct terms. Children will only be naming these body parts at this stage and will not be discussing their uses.

We wanted to send this letter out in preparation for any questions or conversations your child may wish to discuss at home. If you wish to discuss the content of these lessons, please contact a member of the Year 2 team.

Kind Regards,

Year 2 Team
