Dear Parents and Carers,

A very warm welcome to the Summer Term! It has been such a pleasure to open the school gates this week and see our KingEdwinners bouncing in each morning with smiles on their faces, bags on backs, and hands ready for a High 5. Their energy, positivity and brilliant attitudes have given us a fantastic start to the term and really set the tone for the weeks ahead.

We have so many exciting things planned for the coming months - the Summer Term is always a busy and special time at KEPS. There are trips, sporting events, performances, enrichment activities, curriculum celebrations and plenty of opportunities for our children to shine. Staff are already enjoying sharing what's coming next, and the children's excitement is building by the day.

This week alone has been full of wonderful moments across school. Learning has been purposeful, calm and joyful, and it's been lovely to see how quickly the children have settled back into routines. A real highlight has been the continued success of our Baby & Toddler Group, which takes place every Wednesday afternoon. The sessions have been very well attended and it's been great to see families enjoying this welcoming space together - it really does feel like a true extension of our KEPS community.

In assembly this week, the children impressed us all with their thoughtful contributions to a debate around protected characteristics and what it means to belong to a community. Their interest, curiosity and respect for one another's views were fantastic, and it was heart-warming to hear how clearly they understand the importance of inclusion, kindness and looking out for others. These discussions really capture what being a KingEdwinner is all about.

We have also been delighted to see a noticeable improvement in attendance in recent weeks. Having children in school every day makes such a difference to learning, friendships and overall wellbeing and we are incredibly grateful for your continued support with this. Long may this continue.

Thank you, as always, for being such a supportive and engaged school community. We are very proud of our children and feel lucky to work alongside such wonderful families.

The Summer Term promises to be a brilliant one, and we can't wait to enjoy it together.

Kind regards,

Andy Callaghan-Wetton - Headteacher
